INTRODUCTION

The Detroit Historic District Commission was formed by Detroit Ordinance 161-H in 1976. Its purpose is to ensure the preservation of historically and culturally significant areas of the City which are designated by the City Council as Historic Districts. Citizen members of the Commission are appointed by the Mayor and the Commission is staffed by the City of Detroit Planning and Development Department.

A building permit is required for any exterior changes to a building or site in a designated or proposed historic district. The Historic District Commission administers a building permit application review procedure and may approve or deny based on the appropriateness of the proposed work. Building permits are issued by the Buildings, Safety, Engineering & Environmental Department upon approval by the Historic District Commission. In addition to permit application reviews, the Commission is also involved in other matters concerning historic properties, preservation programs, and designation of proposed districts.

WHO IS THE HISTORIC DISTRICT COMMISSION?

The Commission is made up of seven Detroit residents who are appointed by Mayor Duggan. These dedicated volunteers are generally residents of historic districts and represent such professions as architects and realtors. They generally meet the second Wednesday of the month beginning at 5:30 PM, to review applications for building permits in historic districts. A call to the Commission office can confirm meeting times and application deadlines

The purpose of Historic Preservation in the City of Detroit is to:

- Safeguard the heritage of the city by preserving areas in the city which reflect elements of its cultural, social, spiritual, economic, political, engineering or architectural history;
- Stabilize and improve property values in such areas;
- Foster civic beauty and community pride;
- Strengthen the local economy; and promote the use of historic districts for the education, pleasure and welfare of the citizens of the City of Detroit.

BENEFITS OF LOCALLY HISTORIC DISTRICT DESIGNATION

- Preserve Detroit's neighborhoods, housing stock, and history for future generations of Detroiters.
- May qualify to apply for federal historic tax credits.
- Regulation of exterior changes in neighborhoods including window replacement, ensuring new construction and additions are compatible, and the historic character of houses and grounds is maintained.
- Prevention of property neglect and demolition by the use of the demolition by neglect portion of the ordinance that requires owners to repair their properties before they reach such a state of disrepair that they have to be demolished.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What can I do to the inside of my house?

The Commission does not regulate changes to the interior of a house, unless the interior change affects the exterior appearance.

How do I know what colors to paint my house?

The Commission has a publication called Detroit Historic Districts Style and Color Guide that gives the acceptable colors depending on the style of the house. Color charts and instructions are provided by Commission staff.

Does the Commission review what I do to the back of my house?

The Commission is required to review all exterior changes, including those not visible from the street. The entire house, garage and yard contribute to the historic character of the district.

How does the Commission decide whether to approve my project?

The Commission is required to use “The Secretary of the Interior’s Standards for Rehabilitation and Guidelines for Rehabilitating Historic Buildings” when deciding whether work is appropriate in a historic district. The Standards are listed on page 10 of this document.

HISTORIC DISTRICT COMMISSION GUIDELINES

The Detroit Historic District Commission has established guidelines to assist homeowners, residents, and contractors when planning projects that will affect the exterior of a historic property. These guidelines act as a starting point for alterations and consider protection of the historic property and preservation of a building's integrity. Based on research regarding the city's past, the guidelines do not prevent alteration, but assist in keeping a neighborhood's character intact. The following list of guidelines are available from the Commission staff.

- Antenna and Satellite Dish
- Fence and Hedge
- Glass Block Basement Windows
- Masonry Cleaning
- Security Bar & Lighting
- Signs and Awnings

SECRETARY OF INTERIOR STANDARDS FOR REHABILITATION

1. A property will be used as it was historically or be given a new use that requires minimal change to its distinctive materials, features, spaces and spatial relationships.
2. The historic character of a property will be retained and preserved. The removal of distinctive materials or alteration of features, spaces and spatial relationships that characterize a property will be avoided.
3. Each property will be recognized as a physical record of its time, place, and use. Changes that create a false sense of historical development, such as adding conjectural features or elements from other historic properties, will not be undertaken.
4. Changes to a property that have acquired historic significance in their own right will be retained and preserved.
5. Distinctive materials, features, finishes, and construction techniques or examples of craftsmanship that characterize a property will be preserved.
6. Deteriorated historic features will be repaired rather than replaced. Where the severity of deterioration requires replacement of a distinctive feature, the new feature will match the old in design, color, texture, and, where possible, materials. Replacement of missing features will be substantiated by documentary and physical evidence.
7. Chemical or physical treatments, if appropriate, will be undertaken using the gentlest means possible. Treatments that cause damage to historic materials will not be used.
8. Archeological resources will be protected and preserved in place. If such resources must be disturbed, mitigation measures will be undertaken.
9. New additions, exterior alterations, or related new construction will not destroy historic materials, features, and spatial relationships that characterize the property. The new work will be differentiated from the old and will be compatible with the historic materials, features, size, scale, and proportion, and massing to protect the integrity of the property and its environment.
10. New additions and adjacent or related new construction will be undertaken in such a manner that, if removed in the future, the essential form and integrity of the historic property and its environment would be unimpaired.
